SUBSCRIPTION FOR

The Opening Day of the State Fair is Largely Successful.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

RALEIGH, N. C., October 16.—Several of the young men of the city got together this morning a while before day and cut down the State Fair banner, "Wolcome to Our President," that has been suspended across Fayetteville Street for several weeks just beyond the municipal building. Much harsh criticism has been passed on the banner, because it was not thought that it was as elaborate and expensive as the fuir management should put up. Secretary Pogue was flooded with postal cards Friday and Saturday, making all manner of fun of the banner, and demanding that it be taken down as being disgraceful to the city. He would give no satisfaction as to what he would do, so this morning a crowd got together quietly and some of their number climbed to the top of one of the electric light poles to which it was fastened and cut it down. When it fell some one stuck a match to the end and burned several feet of R, so that it would not be possible for the fair management to put the management of put the management to put the management of the passible for the fair management to put the management of put the management to put the manag possible for the fair management to put it up dgain. The banner consisted of a single strip of canvass about thirty feet long and one foot wide. A private subscription has been raised to; have an elaborate banner put up in time for the President's arrival Thursday. For a while there were two large national flags suspended from either and of the old banner, but the wind thrashed these to sireds some days ago.

A charter is issued for the High Point Molding Company, $50,000 capital authorized and $5,000 subscribed, by R. A. Wheeler, W. F. White and others. Another possible for the fair management to put authorized.

The weather conditions under which the State fair opened to-day are ideal, with every indication that good weather will continue through the week. Immense crowds visited the fair grounds Sunday, the crowd being pronounced fully as large as is usually at the fair on Wed, needays. "The Trail" was already in very good form, and the lunch counters, very good form, and the lunch counters, fortune tellers and some of the other features of the big shows were doing business as though it was a "week day." There are already large crowds of visitors in the city, although the formal opening of the fair does not take place until to-morrow (Tuesday) at noon, when Governor Glenn will deliver the address and formally open the fair, which in point formally open the fair, which, in point of the variety and excellence of exhibits and the trials of speed and other fea-tures, will far excel all previous fairs. Then the coming of President Roosevelt will be the crowning event on Thursday, the big day of the fair.

When they went to make a raid, Handy resisted arrest and opened fire on the revenues, forcing them to leave. The officers returned, however, at daylight next morning and broke open the door to Handy's place. Several shots were again exchanged, and the "Blind Tiger" man was captured.

Investigation showed that an ugly wound on the side of Handy's head had been inflicted by a ball from a Winchester.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ABHLAND, VA., Cotober 16.—The management of the Henry Clay Inn changed hands to-day. Mr. W. B. Duell, who has been the proprietor under a yearly lease since last April, transferred his lease to Mr. J. Watkins Lee, who has been spending several winter seasons at Palatka, Fid. Mr. Lee is one of the best known hotel men in Virginia, having conducted the Rawley Springs, the Old Sweet Springs and other well known resorts. Mr. Lee, accompanied by his wife and two daughters, arrived to-day and will take immediate charge. The hotel has been favorably patronized during the past season, and a number of guests from the North have been booked for the winter. The present manager, Mr. Henry Cook, will be temperarily in charge, prior to accepting his new position with the government. Mr. J. B. Cox, auditor of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomae Railroad, who lives here, while at Wallace's Circus, in Richmond, last Saturday night, was relieved of his wallet. Fortunately, however, it only contained various and sundry annual railroad prisses. Mr. Cox has offered a reward for the passes.
